

SUFFRAGETTES WIN CLEAN VICTORY AT MOMUS BANQUET

"Knockers" Club of Printers
Lives Up to Its Name, Hitting Hard at Guests.

A clean victory was won by the suffragettes when, with banners flying and band playing, they captured the annual dinner of the Knights of Momus last night, and, forcing Walter Vick, vice president of the inaugural committee, into a corner, made him sign a petition asking for everything the suffragettes wanted during the inaugural festivities. Led by Mrs. Clara Naecker, who announced that she had all the celebrities in Washington in line behind her, the "suffragettes" marched around the banquet hall in Raucher's and carried everything before them. When Mr. Vick finally signed the petition, Mrs. Naecker rewarded him by singing "You're My Baby."

After Mrs. Naecker left the hall, every knight grabbed a sledge hammer, and the real hammering of the evening began. Everything from the Panama canal to the new form of neckties received its little whack, and those who did not bear away the marks of the mallet felt that they had been slighted. No skulls were cracked, but it there had been a chesty feeling about the "high-browed guests" when they arrived, it would have suffered.

Tramp Invades Hall.
Just as the diners settled down and they were rather good-natured toward each other at first, a tramp looking as if he had been put through a course in the college of alcoholism, broke into the banquet hall. He refused to be put out, saying that he was a printer on the road, and would, on the strength of J. P. Morgan's saying that he would rather lend a million dollars to a man with character than on the best collateral, like to have the endorsement of the knights in order to secure the loan. An imitation of Mr. Morgan arose and gave the tramp a check for a million. After the gallery was cleared, the real story telling of the evening began.

When the cigars began to bloom about the hall the toastmaster rose, and, saying that the knights wanted to know who were the candidates for the job of Public Printer, so they might endorse him, asked that the candidates rise. Immediately the full membership of knights rose. After looking over the candidates, the toastmaster ordered all to sit down except those who thought they had a chance for the position. Then a character depicting General Black-and-Blue, chairman of the Service Commission, put the remaining candidates through a short examination, getting the following answers:

Some Definitions.
"Public Printer—A highbrow from Boston or a freak from the Philippines."
"Printer—Not a politician—a diplomat."
"Style book—A sacred scare that costs the Government thousands of dollars to keep up-to-date, and which donkeys, demagogues, and dogmatists must be printed in caps."
"Proof reader—A printer with a pull."
"Congressman—A character who is scheduled to make a speech but when his time came he stated that in view of the old rule which ruled here, he was not qualified to be a statesman to the printers who handled the Congressional Record and he was afraid to speak."

Kahn Retires, Indignant.
Senator Reed Smoot came to his rescue and, until the hammer fell showing that his time was up, told a number of stories which were not even knocked. Congressman Julius Kahn tried to make a speech and the toastmaster hampered him down with the gavel, which looked like a bungler. Congressman Kahn stated that he had been insulted and left the hall, but a few minutes later was brought back smiling and seemingly happy.
Others who spoke were Samuel Gomper, Willis Moore, Congressman Victor Murdock, Congressman Sisson, and F. N. Whitehead, who told a story in regard to the brightness of Congressman Kahn which the latter later branded as a proper admission card to the Annapolis club.

Summer Weather Due First Half of Week

Summer weather for at least the first half of the week is indicated in the Weather Bureau bulletin issued today. Some rain may prevail from the upper part of the week in that country will see warm weather. In the South there will be rains.
No unusually low temperatures are expected, although there is likely to be a drop following the eastward movement of a "depression" now over the upper lake region and Ontario.
Rains and snows will attend a disturbance over the north Pacific coast and British Columbia early in the week. The interior central and southern districts west of the Rockies will have fair weather the greater part of the week, while in the South generally fair weather is indicated for the second half of the week.

Expect Canal Will Aid Trans-Isthmus Trade

With the Panama Canal not yet completed, there is already established across the isthmus and via the Tehuantepec railroad a commerce that aggregates in value more than $10,000,000 monthly. According to statistics gathered by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, trade between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States, via the two isthmus routes, aggregated in 1912 $125,000,000. This, says the bureau, will not doubt be materially increased by the opening of the canal.

TIMES ASKED TO AID GIRLS' HUNT FOR DOG

Youngsters Mourn Missing Pet,
So Paper Decides to Help in Search for Animal.

Sorrowing over one of the only real treasuries of childhood, the loss of a favorite pet and companion, little Kathryn and Frances Ward, have asked The Times to extend its influence and power of obtaining results where private effort fails, in the finding of their companion and protector, a big female St. Bernard dog, that has been missing from the Ward home for days.
The little girls are distressed beyond measure. They have sought in vain throughout the neighborhood of their home at 635 Third Street northeast, for news of the strayed pet. No one, however, seems to know, or to have seen the faithful playmate. Whose presence means so much to lonesome little girls.
In this extremity, The Times is answering the appeal, and this afternoon every home in Washington will have a picture of the missing one, so that it may be identified. The finder will alleviate a deep sorrow.

URGES BALLOT FOR DISTRICT CITIZENS

Major W. O. Owen Refers to Discrimination in Assessing
Real Estate.

Before a large assembly gathered at the Typographical Temple last night, Major W. O. Owen, U. S. A., retired, brother of the Senator from Oklahoma, made an address on self-government and strongly advocated that the citizens of the District of Columbia be given the ballot.
Major Owen described the present government of the District, and then pointed out its defects. He referred to the discrimination in the assessments of the real estate under the present system and cited the cases revealed by Tom L. Johnson in 1902, and also those recently reported by the George committee in the House.
The audience was plainly in sympathy with the plea which Major Owen made and his words met with hearty applause. Major Owen declared he favored the plan that the District be represented in both houses of Congress.

Scientists Here to Ask Entertainment Fund

Headed by L. S. Rowe, of the University of Pennsylvania, president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, a delegation of eminent scientists appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee today to urge an appropriation of $50,000 for the entertainment of the delegates to the second Pan-American Scientific Congress, to be held in this city in October.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR FOR WESTERN UNION

Dr. Alvah H. Doty to Look After
Health of Employees Under New Benefit Fund Plan.

Theodore N. Vail, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the American Telephone Company, has announced the appointment of Dr. Alvah H. Doty, formerly health inspector of the port of New York, as medical director of the employees' benefit fund committee, recently organized by the allied companies.
It is planned by the companies to establish a general supervision of the health of their employees and to formulate preventive measures as well as provide for the sick. Arrangements will be made with hospitals throughout the country for the care of those needing treatment.
Since there are more than 200,000 workers employed by the allied companies, the undertaking is a large one, and brings about a new era in the conditions between the employer and the employee.

To Attend Banquet.
Thomas Nelson Page will leave the city tomorrow to attend a banquet of Virginians in New York on Wednesday. Among the others who will speak will be Richard Evelyn Byrd, speaker of the house of delegates of Virginia, and D. C. Seitz, of the New York World.

THREE IN HOT RACE FOR NOMINATION AS REGISTER OF WILLS

Hyattsville Aspirant Out Against
Two Organization Men for Democratic Plum.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Jan. 27.—One of the most interesting features of the Democratic primaries in this county this summer will be the contest for the nomination of register of wills. So far there are three pronounced candidates in the field—George P. Hickey, of Hyattsville; William A. Miller, the present incumbent; and Henry St. J. L. Briscoe, at present clerk to the board of county commissioners.
Mr. Hickey is a son of former Justice of the Peace John F. Hickey, and except for being an election official one year, has never held or asked for a political office. He is making a determined canvass of his friends throughout the county. Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Briscoe belong to the organization wing of the party, and it is a conjecture which one of the two leaders will support. It is said the organization will keep hands off, and let them fight it out. Any other course, it is said, would mean a fight within the ranks.
Friends of Mr. Miller claim he is seeking nomination for him to capture the county. Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Briscoe point to his services as clerk to the county commissioners as a sufficient guarantee of his capabilities to fill the office he is seeking. Mr. Briscoe says he has been ambitious to be register of wills for several years, and claims that he has stood aside for other aspirants several times and will decline to do so this time. With all these two candidates fighting it out in the lower end of the county the chances for Mr. Hickey are bright. District Chauffeurs Joining New Union

The organization of chauffeurs of the District of Columbia, is enlisting as members nearly all competent drivers here, according to J. E. Toome, organizer of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, who initiated fifteen new members into the union yesterday. The union, which is affiliated with the Brotherhood of Teamsters, and hence comes under the jurisdiction of the American Federation of Labor, has been organized a few weeks and already numbers about fifty members. Meetings are held in Typographical Temple. Delegate Thomas McGilton, of the Central Labor Union, attended the meeting.

Red Cross Prepares To Aid Flood Victims

Telegrams were exchanged today between Washington and Vicksburg and points north and south of there, the American National Red Cross here endeavoring to obtain exact information as to the extent of the flood.
A bad break in the British levee is reported. The devastation becomes as great as feared, the Red Cross here will extend its relief to the victims.
"The possibilities of disaster are vast, according to the belief of some persons," said Ernest P. Bicknell, director of the Red Cross, this afternoon, "and as soon as we learn definitely what the situation is we shall act."

WOMEN DISCUSS SUFFRAGE BEFORE SECULAR LEAGUE

Declare March Is Best Time to Present Claim of Fair Sex on Ballot.

That the "psychological moment for women to present their claim to the ballot" is during the inauguration ceremonies, was the substance of addresses made by leading local suffragettes at the meeting of the Washington Secular League yesterday.

Prominent among the speakers were Miss Florence Etheridge, chairman of the District committee of the Woman's Suffrage Association; Mrs. Kieff Forest; Mrs. Belva Lockwood; and Mrs. Harris.
Mrs. Etheridge deplored the self-depreciation and distrust which have been engendered in woman through the ages. The speaker declared that woman suffrage would correct the "race suicide" and "white slave traffic" evils.
Mrs. Lockwood declared that it was not the good which could be accomplished by giving the women a vote, but that such was only what woman rightfully should have.

Following the speeches there was a general discussion, in which the following participated: Julian I. Pierce, William D. Mackenzie, Dr. J. J. Shirley, Aratas W. Thomas, Mrs. Jennie L. Munroe, Samuel Salomon, Miss Marston, former Congresswoman E. V. Brookshire and Maj. John Duffie.
It was announced that at the meeting next Sunday, "International Law and Our Canal Treaties" would be the subject of addresses by Donald Macpherson and Maj. John McElroy.

Says Canal Will Send Immigrants to West

How the Pacific coast cities expect a flood of immigrants when the Panama canal is opened was detailed today before the House Buildings Committee by Congressman Humphrey of Washington. He asked an appropriation of $500,000 for a new immigration station at Seattle, declaring that the canal would turn the tide of immigration to the west coast.

Recovered From Severe Lung Trouble

While we all know that plenty of fresh air and good food are necessary to persons suffering from lung trouble, something more is needed to bring about full health. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine for throat and lung troubles, and so many reports have been received showing that it brought about good results in a number of cases which were declared hopeless, that all sufferers who are not benefitting otherwise should at least investigate what it has done for others. It may be the means of restoring you to health. Investigate this case—
"Gentlemen:—In December, 1909, and March, 1910, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which continued several weeks, each time to my bed. These left me very weak and I coughed at night and could not sleep. My appetite also failed me. My doctor advised me to go West. In September, 1910, I planned to go but I had four more hemorrhages, which put me in bed for three weeks.
"In November I started for Denver, Colo. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon hearing of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alternative. In about two months I began to feel better. I kept on taking the medicine and improved. In March, 1910, I returned home. I think I am entirely well, have a good appetite, sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 130 pounds. Now I weigh 150 pounds. I think I am entirely well and you Alternative for my health. If I can help any other person suffering from Tuberculosis, I will gladly do so."
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by O'Donnell's and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recovered cases, write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.
